The Internal Family Systems Model

IFS is at the forefront of a movement toward a more collaborative therapeutic approach that relies on clients' intuitive wisdom. IFS offers a clear, non-pathologizing, and empowering view of human cognitive and emotional life and provides a dynamic therapeutic approach that allows both therapist and client to enter into a transformational relationship in which healing can occur. For more information about the IFS model and its founder, Dr. Richard Schwartz, PhD, visit the IFS Institute Website.

Internal Family Systems: An Evidence-Based Practice

Internal Family Systems is posted on the National Registry for Evidence-Based Programs and Practices (NREPP). Interventions listed in NREPP have been subject to independent, rigorous scrutiny, and are deemed to show significant impact on individual outcomes relating to mental health. For more information about IFS as an evidence-based practice, please visit the Foundation for Self Leadership Website.

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

Our goal at IFS Institute is to create learning environments and a community that teach and support the internal welcoming of parts that have been exiled, shamed, or marginalized within our systems so that they may be seen, heard, valued, and ultimately healed. Our hope is that this work will lead to greater Self leadership where all of us are more connected, curious, and compassionate with ourselves and with each other. For more information about IFS Institute’s commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, please visit: IFS Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

During On-site Training Sessions

- IFS Institute follows the guidance of training venues or relevant government entities regarding health and safety protocols for on-site sessions.
- If required by the training site or relevant government entities, all training participants and staff must observe health and safety protocols in effect at the training site.
- Required protocols can be imposed or lifted at any time before a training starts, before individual sessions start, and while a training is actively in session.
- Training members are responsible for determining, following, making, and adjusting travel plans related to protocols that might be in effect during their training.

Before You Apply to This Training, Please Consider the Following:

- On-site sessions are only available at the training site, in the site's meeting space.
- On-site sessions are not available on Zoom, FaceTime, or other online platforms.
- Recordings and transcripts of training sessions are not available.
- Each training includes about 50 people, meeting in both large and small groups.
- Training members may be traveling from places near and far, sometimes internationally.
- Please review IFS Institute's withdrawal/refund policies in this brochure.

We understand that an individual's comfort level regarding on-site, indoor meetings can change as COVID levels, COVID protocols, or personal circumstances change, sometimes unexpectedly.

Given your own situation, please do not apply to this training if you cannot or do not wish to attend an on-site session where no protocols are required, or are uncomfortable with the possibility of health and safety protocols being imposed or lifted at any time, or cannot or do not want to abide by protocols that may be required (or may need something other than these protocols). Instead, we suggest that you consider an online training.

If Running an On-Site Session Online Is Required:

IFS Institute fully intends to run on-site sessions of this training at the site listed. However, if circumstances change and health and safety restrictions are imposed by government or other entities with authority, it may be necessary to move on-site sessions to an online platform. Health and safety protocols can be imposed or lifted at any time. If any on-site sessions must be moved online, IFS Institute will act as quickly as possible to keep training members informed.
