
The Internal Family Systems Model

Internal Family SystemsSM is at the forefront of a movement toward a more collaborative therapeutic approach that relies on clients' intuitive wisdom. IFSSM offers a clear, non-pathologizing, and empowering view of human cognitive and emotional life and provides a dynamic therapeutic approach that allows both therapist and client to enter into a transformational relationship in which healing can occur.

Richard C. Schwartz, PhD, has been developing the IFS model for more than 30 years, with IFS now practiced by thousands of licensed therapists and other professionals throughout the United States and internationally. Mental health care professionals and others trained in the IFS model can easily integrate it into a wide variety of practices using the unique methods IFS offers to create safe environments for clients to become Self-transforming. Internal Family Systems therapy is a simple yet sophisticated integration of psychology, spirituality, and intra-psychic and family systems theory that:

*Richard C.
Schwartz*

- Works well with couples, families, groups, and children
- Can effectively treat trauma
- Is a client-led approach that respects each client's pace and goals
- Establishes a productive, trusting, and collaborative partnership between therapist and client
- Helps therapists remain centered and open-hearted

Internal Family Systems: An Evidence-Based Practice

Internal Family Systems (IFS) is now posted on NREPP as an evidence-based practice. NREPP is the National Registry for Evidence-Based Programs and Practices, a national repository that is maintained by the U.S. government's Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). Interventions listed in NREPP have been subject to independent, rigorous scrutiny, and are deemed to show significant impact on individual outcomes relating to mental health.

As a clinical treatment, IFS has been rated effective for improving general functioning and well-being. In addition, it has been rated promising for improving each of: phobia, panic, and generalized anxiety disorders and symptoms; physical health conditions and symptoms; personal resilience/self-concept; and depression and depressive symptoms.

These scientific findings and the listing of IFS on NREPP affirm the vast potential of IFS therapy for advancing emotional healing and mental well-being. In particular, they indicate promising effects on mind (depression, anxiety), body (physical health conditions), and spirit (personal resilience and self-concept).

Curriculum

Overview: In addition to thoroughly learning IFS theory and technique, the IFS Level 1 training program invites participants to explore their own inner worlds in a safe, nurturing context. The training will help participants:

- Understand the conceptual basis of the IFS model;
- Apply basic IFS techniques to various clinical populations; and
- Take advantage of the opportunities IFS offers for personal development.

Learning Objectives: Please visit www.IFS-Institute.com, FAQ page.

Format and Program Hours: The training includes lecture, discussion, demonstration, video review, experiential exercise, and small group practice. This training comprises six, 3-day sessions totaling 108 program hours (18 hours per session).

Session and daily schedules are listed later in this brochure.

Trainers

Lead Trainer (all sessions): Frances D. Booth, LISCW, is a long-time IFS therapist who seeks to cultivate Presence in work and in life. She graduated from Cornell University and Simmons School for Social Work, and has held faculty positions at Smith College School for Social Work, Tufts Medical School, and The Massachusetts School for Professional Psychology. She practices in Andover, MA, and at the Virginia Thurston Healing Garden Cancer Center in Harvard, MA. Fran's specialties include trauma, anxiety, depression, cancer, eating disorders, and attachment disorders. She loves to sing, dance, laugh, dine, and attend the theater.

Lead Trainer (all sessions): Gretchen King, LMFT, is a licensed marriage and family therapist. She sees clients and supervises graduate students at The Family Institute at Northwestern University, and supervision and consultation are a growing part of her practice. Gretchen works with adult individuals, couples, and adult families, and focuses on cultivating harmonious relationships with one's Self and others. She has been involved with IFS since 2001 in a variety of capacities, and is known for her clarity and gently challenging teaching style.

Assistant Trainer: Jory Agate, LMHC, MDiv, MA, comes to the field of psychotherapy after a 20 year career in Unitarian Universalist ministry that focused on youth, families, sexuality, leadership development, and diversity, equity and inclusion trainings. Her current practice of psychotherapy and spiritual counseling specializes in individuals, families, clergy, couples, and staff teams. Fluent in American Sign Language, Jory provides therapy for those who communicate in ASL. She maintains a private practice in Cambridge, MA.
