The Internal Family Systems Model

Internal Family Systems™ is at the forefront of a movement toward a more collaborative therapeutic approach that relies on clients’ intuitive wisdom. IFS™ offers a clear, non-pathologizing, and empowering view of human cognitive and emotional life and provides a dynamic therapeutic approach that allows both therapist and client to enter into a transformational relationship in which healing can occur.

Richard C. Schwartz, PhD, has been developing the IFS model for more than 30 years, with IFS now practiced by thousands of licensed therapists and other professionals throughout the United States and internationally. Mental health care professionals and others trained in the IFS model can easily integrate it into a wide variety of practices using the unique methods IFS offers to create safe environments for clients to become Self-transforming. Internal Family Systems therapy is a simple yet sophisticated integration of psychology, spirituality, and intra-psychic and family systems theory that:

- Works well with couples, families, groups, and children;
- Can effectively treat trauma;
- Is a client-led approach that respects each client’s pace and goals;
- Establishes a productive, trusting, collaborative partnership between therapist and client;
- Helps therapists remain centered and open-hearted.

Internal Family Systems: An Evidence-Based Practice

Internal Family Systems (IFS) is now posted on NREPP as an evidence-based practice. NREPP is the National Registry for Evidence-Based Programs and Practices, a national repository that is maintained by the U.S. government’s Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). Interventions listed in NREPP have been subject to independent, rigorous scrutiny, and are deemed to show significant impact on individual outcomes relating to mental health.

As a clinical treatment, IFS has been rated effective for improving general functioning and well-being. In addition, it has been rated promising for improving each of: phobia, panic, and generalized anxiety disorders and symptoms; physical health conditions and symptoms; personal resilience/self-concept; and depression and depressive symptoms.

These scientific findings and the listing of IFS on NREPP affirm the vast potential of IFS therapy for advancing emotional healing and mental well-being. In particular, they indicate promising effects on mind (depression, anxiety), body (physical health conditions), and spirit (personal resilience and self-concept).

The Training Program

Overview: In the Level 3 training, you will work intensively with a group of advanced practitioners who have learned the theory and technique of IFS and are now interested in expanding the depth of their knowledge. You are a good fit for this program if your goal is not only to become a better therapist or consultant, but also to:

- Learn about and unburden your personal triggers and blind spots;
- Hold Self-energy in daily life and when provoked;
- Clarify your visions for your career and your life path in general;
- Practice giving and receiving Self-led feedback;
- Discover some key trailheads;
- Explore your spirituality;
- Create a small Self-led community.

Learning Objectives: Please visit www.IFS-Institute.com, FAQ page.

Format: The training will include demonstrations, experiential group exercises, large and small group discussions, extended mediations and intensive personal work.

Program Hours: This training meets for five consecutive days. The daily schedule is listed later in this brochure.

Senior Lead Trainer

Don’t miss this opportunity to deepen your IFS knowledge and skills with Senior IFS Trainer, Chris Burris, LMFT, LPC. Chris has taught many IFS trainings in the US and in Europe. He uses mind/body therapeutic approaches to alleviate traumatic stress, depression, and anxiety related issues, working extensively with individuals and couples. Chris is an AAMFT Approved Supervisor, is on the advisory board for The Joshua Project, and has been active with men's groups and rites of passage ceremonies since 1990. As former Director of Counseling at The North Carolina School of the Arts, Chris has considerable experience with performance enhancement for artists of all types, and has a private practice in Asheville, NC.
