Nickname: Regal Mountain
Internal Family SystemsSM Therapy

The Internal Family Systems Model

Internal Family SystemsSM is at the forefront of a movement toward a more collaborative therapeutic approach that relies on clients' intuitive wisdom. IFSSM offers a clear, non-pathologizing, and empowering view of human cognitive and emotional life and provides a dynamic therapeutic approach that allows both therapist and client to enter into a transformational relationship in which healing can occur.

Richard C. Schwartz, PhD, has been developing the IFS model for more than 30 years, with IFS now practiced by thousands of licensed therapists and other professionals throughout the United States and internationally. Mental health care professionals and others trained in the IFS model can easily integrate it into a wide variety of practices using the unique methods IFS offers to create safe environments for clients to become Self-transforming. Internal Family Systems therapy is a simple yet sophisticated integration of psychology, spirituality, and intra-psychic and family systems theory that:

*Richard C.
Schwartz*

- Works well with couples, families, groups, and children;
- Can effectively treat trauma;
- Is a client-led approach that respects each client's pace and goals;
- Establishes a productive, trusting, and collaborative partnership between therapist and client;
- Helps therapists remain centered and open-hearted.

Internal Family Systems: An Evidence-Based Practice

Internal Family Systems (IFS) is now posted on NREPP as an evidence-based practice. NREPP is the National Registry for Evidence-Based Programs and Practices, a national repository that is maintained by the U.S. government's Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). Interventions listed in NREPP have been subject to independent, rigorous scrutiny, and are deemed to show significant impact on individual outcomes relating to mental health.

As a clinical treatment, IFS has been rated effective for improving general functioning and well-being. In addition, it has been rated promising for improving each of: phobia, panic, and generalized anxiety disorders and symptoms; physical health conditions and symptoms; personal resilience/self-concept; and depression and depressive symptoms.

These scientific findings and the listing of IFS on NREPP affirm the vast potential of IFS therapy for advancing emotional healing and mental well-being. In particular, they indicate promising effects on mind (depression, anxiety), body (physical health conditions), and spirit (personal resilience and self-concept).

Curriculum

Overview: In addition to thoroughly learning IFS theory and technique, the IFS Level 1 training program invites participants to explore their own inner worlds in a safe, nurturing context. The training will help participants:

- Understand the conceptual basis of the IFS model;
- Apply basic IFS techniques to various clinical populations; and
- Take advantage of the opportunities IFS offers for personal development.

Learning Objectives: Please visit www.IFS-Institute.com, FAQ page.

Format and Program Hours: The training includes lecture, discussion, demonstration, video review, experiential exercise, and small group practice. This training comprises three, 4-day sessions totaling 80 program hours (26.5 or 27 hours per session), plus two separate 2-hour online sessions between the 4-day sessions. The two separate 2-hour sessions enable participants to have contact with their trainers and each other in order to ask questions and further integrate material already presented.

Session and daily schedules are listed later in this brochure.

Trainers

Lead Trainer: Kay Gardner, MS, LCPC, is an IFS senior lead trainer who has been in private practice in Chicago for 30 years. In addition to teaching IFS trainings, Kay has taught programs such as the Women's Circle, Persephone's Journey, and Men and Their Mothers. Kay is trained in Hakomi therapy, was a Hakomi teacher, and has a 40-year personal yoga and a meditation practice. Known for her passion for IFS, both as a trainer and practitioner, Kay uses a body-mind-spirit approach and integrates South American shamanism ideas into her work.

Assistant Trainer: Katelyn Staecker, LCSW, is a psychotherapist, teacher, workshop leader, and Certified Practitioner of Psychodrama, Sociometry and Group Psychotherapy. Katelyn facilitates workshops and retreats on spirituality, and personal growth and relationship skills. She also has a special interest in developing communities of all types and teaching the interpersonal skills necessary for their sustainability. Katelyn has been in private practice in Oregon for over 30 years, and works with her gifted co-therapist, Sonny, who is a Bernedoodle and "oh so sweet".
